——————— limiting the time for receiving Petitions for Private Bills, Bills, and Reports of Bills, 10.

——————— relative to the mode of proceeding with respect to the Orders of the Day and Notices of Motions, &c., 10, 301.

——————— That this House entertains a just and high sense of the distinguished and exemplary manner in which John Rickman, Esquire, late Clerk Assistant of this House, uniformly discharged the duties of his situation during his long attendance at the Table of this House, 20.

——————— That in the Opinion of this House, the large increase of the Number of Convicts to be permanently confined in the Hulks of Great Britain, is highly inexpedient, 160.

——————— That, considering the efforts and sacrifices which Parliament and the country have made for the abolition of the Slave Trade and Slavery, with the earnest hope that their exertions and example might lead to the mitigation and final extinction of those evils in other countries, this House is not prepared (especially with the present prospects of the supply of Sugar from British Possessions) to adopt the measure proposed by Her Majesty's Government for the reduction of Duty on Foreign Sugars, 319.

——————— That, under the provisions of the Reform of Parliament Act, it is incumbent on the Clerk of the Peace of every County to write or print the Register of Electors annually, and to furnish Copies of the same, and that the omission to do so has been productive of great inconvenience, &c. 326.
